

COUNTY UNIT BILL TOPIC AT SESSION

County Board of Education Discuss
Many Phases of Proposed New
Bill at Meeting Monday

WOULD ABOLISH OFFICES

New Law Would Also do Away With
High Schools in Many Townships
in Rush County

A busy meeting took place Monday afternoon when the county board of education held their monthly session in the court house, and among the things discussed was the proposed county unit bill, which is pending in the state legislature.

The bill, if passed, will abolish the office of township trustee, of which in this county the twelve members comprise the county board of education. If the bill is passed, the township trustees will vacate office May first.

Among other things taken up at the meeting yesterday were the fixing of some of the commencement dates for the township schools. Dates definitely decided upon are Manilla on April 24; Milroy on April 27; Arlington on April 21; and New Salem April 22.

Miss Alice Piersol, county music supervisor, gave her report that was carried over from the last meeting, in which she reviewed the progress of her work since assuming the place in September. She also announced that each school would be prepared to furnish music for their commencements this spring.

She also pointed to the music memory contests to be held March 17, 24 and 28. The Rev. Gibson Wilson was introduced and he offered his services to the trustees for commencement addresses.

Principles of the schools were asked by County Superintendent Farthing to sponsor the oratorical contest to be held soon, and also called attention to an essay contest being conducted on good sportsmanship.

In discussing the county unit plan, which abolishes the township trustees, and creates a board of 5 members to serve in that capacity, several items were pointed out as to way in which it would affect Rush county.

If the law passes, it becomes effective May first. The first board of 5 members will be selected as follows: Each commissioner appoints one member, and the judge of the circuit court appoints the other two members. Hereafter the board members are elected by the people on their county ballots.

These five board members draw an annual salary of $100. This is the primary purpose of the law, which is to reduce costs, and abolish the annual salaries of the township trustees. The new board is to appoint a county school superintendent. The county commissioners, under the county unit law, have more work, as they must assume a portion of the work now carried on by the trustees.

The plan of the county unit law also is to reduce educational costs in a county. This is accomplished by consolidation. In Rush county there are 12 consolidated high schools, and this number would be reduced one-half, under the county unit plan.

The high schools at Moscow, Arlington, Center, Gings, Webb, would no doubt be abolished, with possibly another one in the list. Pupils would be sent to finish high school courses in schools nearest them. The grade schools would be retained in all of the communities, and possibly Junior high schools, but the total of full commissioned high schools would be reduced, as a part of the plan worked out under the provisions of the county unit law.

The law has many good features, it has been pointed out, and also many other features which would not work to the satisfaction of all communities.

A complaint had been filed in the circuit court by Albert Smelser and Paul Carr against George P. Smalley and others, the action being to foreclose a mortgage and for the appointment of a receiver. The demand on the mortgage is for $900.

The court this morning heard the evidence on the appointment of a receiver, and granted the petition, in which Will M. Frazee was appointed. The transaction involves the sale of a restaurant.

Frank Pearsey has filed a petition in court asking for the adopting of Everett Warfield, son of Adda Warfield, who is now Adda Pearsey.

BASEBALL MEASURE FAILS

Senate Also Passes Bill Regulating
Sale of Pistols—House Acts On
Administration Bills

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 3.—The Sunday "Blue Law" bill was given a chance for life in the house of representatives today.

Following an appeal by Representative Kisinger of Columbia City, its sponsor, that every member be permitted to get acquainted with the measure, the house adopted a minority report of the committee on public morals for passage.

The bill now goes to second reading.

The house also adopted a committee report for indefinite postponement of the bill prohibiting Sunday baseball.

Without argument the senate passed the bill introduced by Senator Holmes of Gary for the regulating of the sale and possession of pistols and revolvers. The vote was 35 to 5. Quick action was taken on the two Pittenger bills introduced in the house yesterday when that body adopted favorable committee report for passage. One bill would turn all fees and revenues of all state departments into the general fund and the other would create a permanent state budget advisory board.

The house passed to third reading the bill to put "teeth" into the present "Blue Sky" law following the acceptance of two amendments.

The Shirley bill to prevent raises in salaries of state and county officials during the term for which they were elected, was sent to engrossment in the house after attempts by Representative Clements of Evansville to amend the measure. Clements argued that the bill was unconstitutional.

The senate passed two bills to require public utilities to bear the entire expense of investigations made by the public service commission, for rate making purposes.

The Harlan garnishes bill authorizing garnishments on incomes was passed by the senate at the afternoon session yesterday by a vote of 30 to 15.

Some objection was raised to the bill on the ground that it would pinch the poor man most, but there was comparatively little opposition. A similar bill has met defeat in practically every session of the Indiana legislature for nearly forty years.

The senate labor committee took under consideration the bill to increase compensation from $13.50 to $16.50 and to revise the present law to provide more liberal terms of administration of the compensation acts.

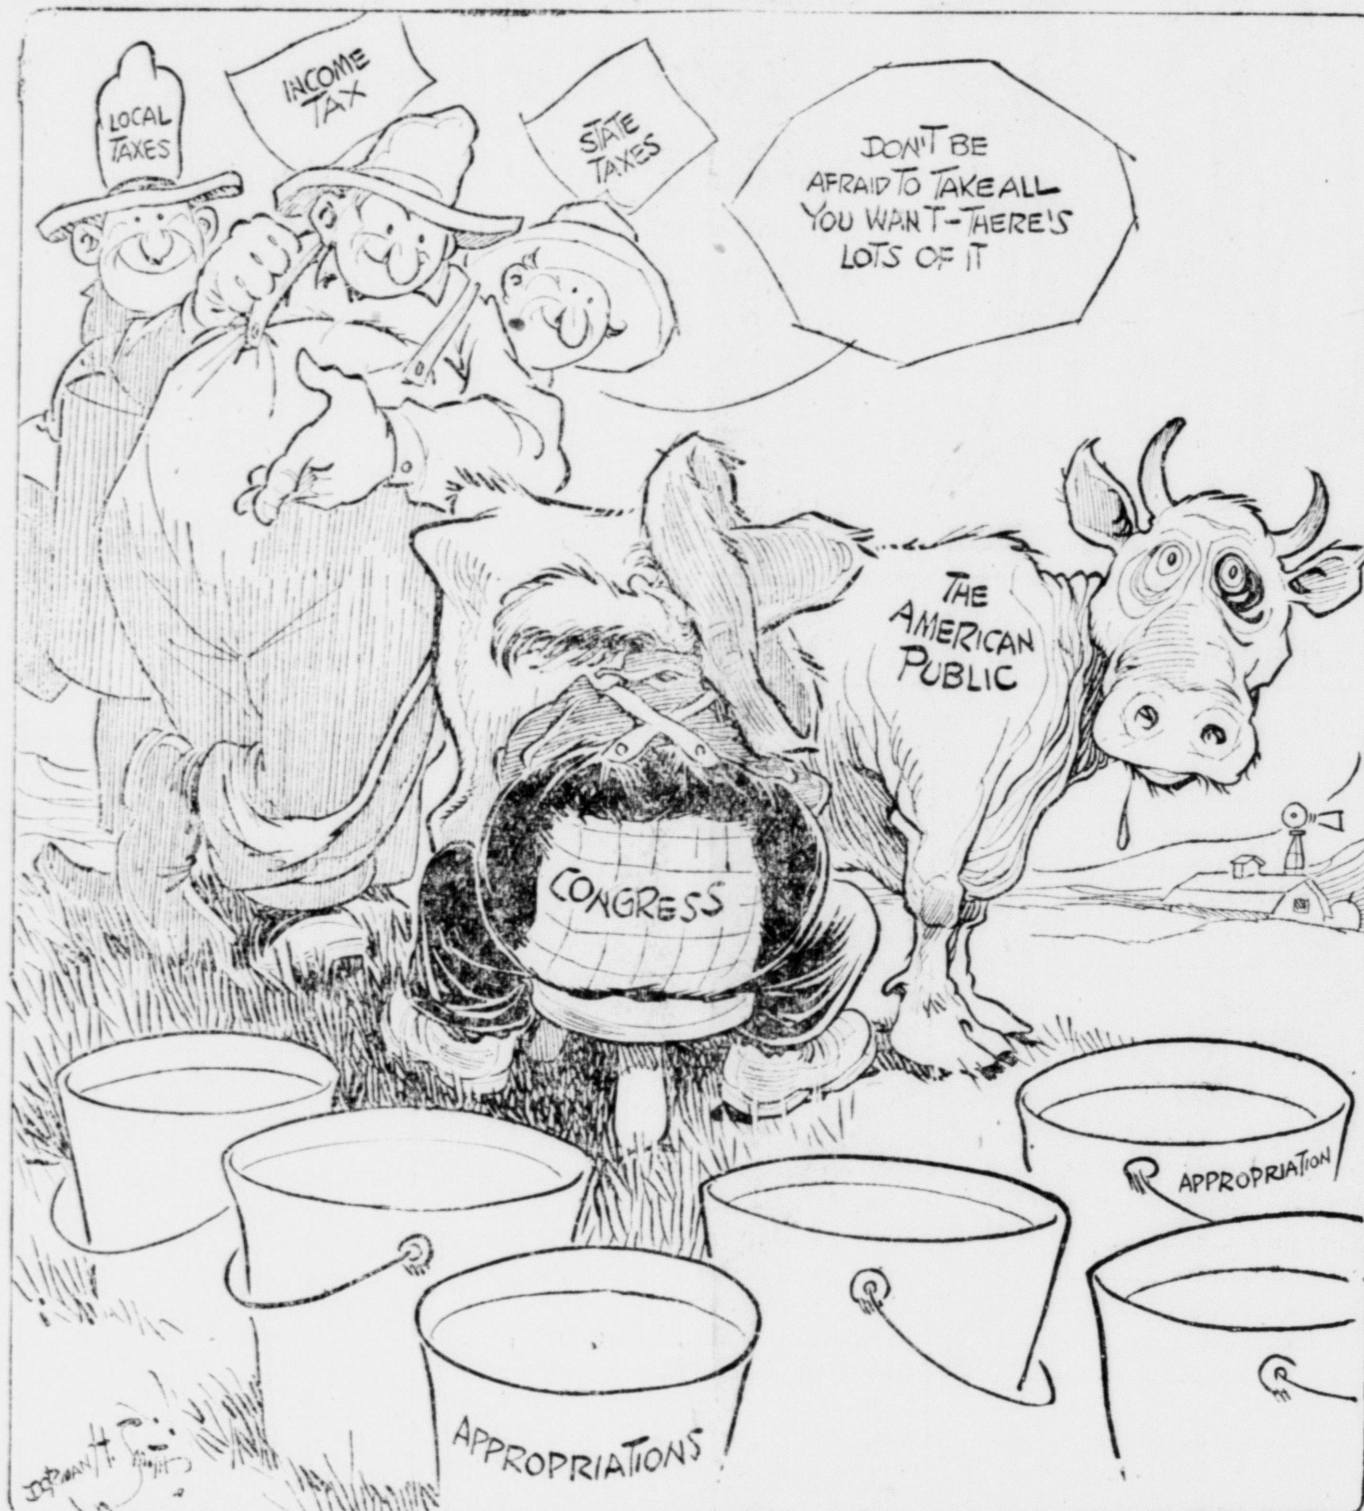

A public hearing was held on the bill last night at which T. N. Taylor, president of the state federation of labor and other labor leaders urged its passage.

Taylor declared the present basis of $13.50 compensation was passed ten years ago when the cost of living was much cheaper.

Speakers arguing against the bill contended "it would be unwise to make idleness too attractive" through too liberal terms in the

Rescuers Work Feverishly in Fresh Effort to Reach Man Buried in Cave

Toiling at Top Speed But With Un-

Spot Where Floyd Collins Lies in
Grip of Boulder Rolling on Him
Last Friday

(By United Press)

Cave City, Ky., Feb. 3.—Men drove into the bowels of the earth here today to save Floyd Collins. Three hundred feet down in an uncharted cavern, Collins lies helpless in the grip of a boulder that rolled upon him Friday morning.

"We will have to dig to him. There is no other hope." Under this decision the most practiced hands and formidable machines that can be mustered were waiting to work.

Toiling at top speed but with unfailing precision, the rescuers sank their shaft toward a point directly behind the spot where Collins lies. All other means of rescue attempted have failed.

Gripped in a passage way scarcely ten inches high, Collins waits beyond the aid of those who have dared the labyrinth to help him. They have wrapped him in blankets such portions of his body as they can reach. Food and drink have been passed to him but the tons of rocks weighing upon his leg denied further help.

"Don't let them pull me," Collins begged after the harness was patched under his shoulders.

His voice came up from a vague void as his pal Johnny Gerald called down to him. Gerald and Charles E. Wattle, president of Owen College, of Bowling Green, have made repeated trips to the underground prison.

RUSH COUNTY BOYS ARE NAMED CADET OFFICERS

Howard Meid of Walker Township
and Howard C. Patterson of New
Salem Honored at Purdue

IN AN ARTILLERY BRIGADE

(Special to The Daily Republican)

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 3.—Howard Henry Meid of Walker township, Rush county, a senior in the School of Agriculture, and Howard C. Patterson of New Salem, a junior taking the agricultural course, have been officers on the cadet field artillery brigade at Purdue. Meid was named a captain and Patterson a second lieutenant.

The selection of the two Rush county students for the responsible officers indicates the ability which they have demonstrated in military training.

The Purdue Reserve Officers' Training Corps consists of over 1500 officers and men and is the largest university or college artillery unit in the United States. It also is the only one with motorized equipment.

Military training is required of all freshmen and sophomore students in Purdue as in all land grant institutions, and practically 1250 are taking the basic course, while 250 juniors and seniors are taking the advanced course which is optional.

Under the present National Defense Act of the United States, Congress has provided, that the Army of the United States shall consist of the Regular Army, the National Guard while in the service of the United States and the Organized Reserves. Cadets Meid and Patterson and the students of his class will be commissioned second lieutenants in officers Reserve Corps upon completion of four years training in the Purdue R. O. T. C. Each year the War Department also commissions a certain percent of the R. O. T. C. graduating class as Second Lieutenants in the Regular Army without further examination other than physical.

THE TREASURE CHEST

The Daily Republican's Treasure Chest makes its bow today. It's going to be a chest of gold for some readers of the Daily Republican.

The Treasure Chest will not be opened daily. That would be too much of a good thing.

Only now and then it will appear with a message that will interest someone in Rush county. It's not fair to announce just what days the Treasure Chest will play oracle.

But oracle it will be when it does function.

FURNACE DOOR IS BLOWN OFF

Coal Dust Explodes, Setting J. H.
Stevens' House on Fire

The explosion of coal dust in an inside heating plant at the home of J. H. Stevens, 609 West First street caused quite a scare this morning at 8 o'clock and filled the house with smoke.

The door of the furnace was blown off and much of the fire was thrown about the room in which the heater was located. The rug and curtains caught fire. The stove door barely missed Mr. Stevens, when the explosion occurred. The fire department was called, and both pumps answered the call, but the blaze was extinguished with the booster line, and the loss estimated at about $10 or $15.

HEADS COMMITTEE TO OPPOSE BILL

John H. Kiplinger in Charge of
Campaign to Prevent Change in
State War Memorial

LEGION FIGHTING MEASURE

Points Out That Restriction of Plaza Plan Would Affect National
Headquarters

John H. Kiplinger, chairman of the legislative committee of the Indiana department of the American Legion, is at the head of the movement being organized against the Penrod bill in the state legislature, which would prohibit the state war memorial commission from erecting any part of the main memorial building in the square in Indianapolis in which the Second Presbyterian and First Baptist churches are situated.

The Legion's legislative committee met in Indianapolis Sunday afternoon to devise some plan to defeat the bill, which has already passed the senate and which, according to the Legion committee, will affect the national headquarters of the Legion which have been moved to Indianapolis.

Oscar Ahlgren of Whiting and Ber Stephenson of Rockville, together with Mr. Kiplinger, were appointed as a special committee to oppose the bill on behalf of the Legion. A public hearing on the measure will be held Wednesday night.

Mr. Kiplinger gave out an interview in Indianapolis, in which he called attention to the effect the Penrod bill would have on the war memorial.

"Inasmuch as the American Legion brought about the war memorial project as a tribute to our fallen comrades," said Mr. Kiplinger, "I believe we should support with all our power the stand taken by the war memorial board in opposing anything that would tend to restrict the ultimate development of the memorial. Inasmuch as the war memorial commission has title to the south block bounded by Meridian Pennsylvania, Vermont and Michigan streets, with the exception of the sites occupied by the two churches, it would not be fair for the legislature to say that the memorial building could not occupy that block. The Penrod bill, however would make it impossible for the building to be constructed on the south block.

"We believe we should resist what is an apparent attempt to force the sale of those churches to the war memorial board at high prices. The former service men, who are interested in the memorial, are not asking for anything more from the legislature, not even a bonus, which has been granted in so many other states. We believe the legislature, Indianapolis and Marion county paid a high tribute to former service men when it made possible, through generous provisions, the acquisition of the plaza tract and money with which to construct the memorial. We believe it would be unfair for us to ask anything more from the taxpayers at the present time.

"All we ask is the right to continue with the development of the memorial plan as it has been outlined. The board already has spent more than $100,000 in preparing for the execution of the project, and if it is forced by the enactment of the Penrod bill to alter its plans, it would

DEMONSTRATION IN MUSIC GIVEN

Miss Alice Piersol, County Supervisor, Presents 64 Moscow Pupils at
Rotary Club Meeting

WORK KEENLY APPRECIATED

"Baby Band" is Marvel of Program
Given to Show Development of
School Music Training

Miss Alice Piersol, supervisor of music in the township schools of Rush county, and Mrs. Claudia Force, teacher of music in the Moscow school, presented sixty-four grade pupils from Moscow in a music demonstration before the Rushville Rotary club at the weekly luncheon today noon.

Miss Piersol explained the method she uses in training pupils and showed by demonstration how the present-day plan was accomplishing results, not alone in teaching children how to sing, but in giving them an appreciation of music.

Members of the club gave the closest attention to the program and applauded each number with the keen appreciation of the way children are learning music under the county-wide supervision plan. Miss Piersol and Mrs. Force received many compliments for the exhibition.

First grade pupils sang a group of three songs and were followed by second grade pupils, who also sang three selections. The "baby band", under the direction of Mabel Benson, age 7, a second grade pupil, rendered three number to phonograph accompaniment, and was the marvel of the program. Members of the band appeared in costume.

A group of seventh and eighth grade pupils demonstrated that boys and girls can be taught to like music if it is properly taught. They sang several numbers, showing marvelous development in six months, and then "talked" to Miss Piersol in music, by answering her when she played notes on the piano.

No special preparation was made for the program, as regular class room work was presented.

Guests present at the meeting aside from Miss Piersol and Mrs. Force were Norma Patterson, principal of the Moscow school; George Hardesty, Orange township trustee; Mrs. Hardesty; B. D. Farthing, county superintendent of schools; Ted Kelley of Indianapolis and William Beher of this city.

The club voted previous to the program to join with the Kiwanis club in a boosters' banquet this spring to carry on the county boosters' program started last spring.

In introducing the pupils taking part in the demonstration, Miss Piersol explained the Rush county system of music supervision in the township schools as follows:

"I wonder if some of you business men have ever thought of the problems we music supervisors have to face when your boys and girls come to us in the fall? What do we do with the boys and girls who are unable to carry a tune? The ones who are unable even to match me tone? Do we consider him hopeless? Do we not?

"Our system of music is uniform throughout the county. We use the Hollis Dann music series exclusively. Grades one and two do not use books this year. Book one is in the hands of the teacher only. Grades three and four use Book Two, each child having a book in his hand. Grade five, six, seven and eight use Book Three for their technical work and for song material we supplement the "Golden Book of Songs" because the song material in Book Three is too babyish. In all eleven of the county high schools we use the Hollis Dann Junior Song Book. We do Chorus work in three parts, Soprano, Alto and Bass. In all grades above the fifth we are offering the State Music Memory Contest for the Cultural and Appreciation side of the music course.

"We believe that the best results always are obtained in any subject when the grade teacher does the work. I have only one assistant in the county who has had training other than the training she has received from me at the county institutes which are held each month. One person from each school has been selected to act as music supervisor. She, or he, receive the training at

OUT A STOMACH

That's about how it is when your stomach is in first class order, you hardly know that you have one.

But what a difference when it isn't working right! You begin to think it is about the worst enemy you have and that it will get you sooner or later. You wish you could get along without it.

You need not get to that state if you will take care of the one you have. Treat it right by eating right, the things it should have, and not overload.

If you haven't taken care of it, and are bothered with indigestion, you can still help it out with Di-Jo. Here's a real aid to digestion. It is surprising how quickly you can be relieved of that heavy overloaded feeling after meals. Di-Jo Tablets taken after meals help your stomach digest the food. They help prevent gas and that bloating. Their ingredients are intended to absorb that gas. They neutralize the acid condition in the stomach, and help you get rid of that unpleasant belching and sour stomach. Just a few tablets necessary.

The various drugs used in Di-Jo are the same as those prescribed by very many family physicians for indigestion and deranged stomachs. Di-Jo is compounded by one of the best pharmacists in America. They are absolutely harmless.

Better get a bottle and either relieve your present disorder, or be prepared in case you should overeat or your stomach weaken and get you into misery. Your nearest druggist sells them.

If you are troubled with constipation take Di-VAC. It is sold by all druggists and is recommended as the proper laxative to be used in connection with Di-Jo, if any is needed.

CONTEST COMMITTEE TO
MAP OUT ITS PROGRAM

Will Decide Tonight How to Settle
Dispute Over State Supreme Court
Election

POINTS OF LAW INVOLVED

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 3.—The joint legislative committee to hear the contest petition in the election of Benjamin Willoughby, Republican, to the state supreme court, was to meet tonight to map out a course of procedure.

There are numerous points of law involved in the contest to be cleared up before the committee starts its investigation. Senator Harlan, of Wayne county, chairman of the committee, said.

No evidence is to be taken at the meeting tonight and it was indicated that the attorney general may be asked for a formal opinion on the powers of the committee before it starts its work.

Some members of the legislature claim that the trial committee can declare George Denton, Democrat, elected if the charges in the petition are substantiated, while others say the committee could only find the office vacant.

The contest petition was filed with the legislature on behalf of the Indiana Anti-Saloon League without Denton's consent. Denton has indicated that he will take no hand in the legislative contest, saying he would rather fight it out in the courts, where he now has a mandamus suit pending to compel the secretary of state to accept corrected returns from several counties which would give him the victory.

AMENDMENT HEARING TONIGHT

Child Labor Question Will be Discussed Before Committee

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 3.—A public hearing was called for tonight by the committee on federal relations of the state senate on the child labor amendment to the federal constitution.

The amendment has been under consideration by the committee for more than a week and will be reported out shortly after the public hearing tonight.

Although enough states have already voted against ratification to insure defeat of the amendment, the amendment will be considered in due form by the Indiana legislature.

Opponents of ratification by the Indiana legislature claim they have enough votes rounded up in both houses to insure unfavorable action.

Manufacturing interests and farmers in particular are opposed to the amendment.

drillers expected to free Collins by noon today.

Because of showers of rock and gravel loosened by the giant air compression drill rushed here from Louisville yesterday, only hand tools could be used.

While those able to reach Collins through the narrow crevices, labored to make room for work on the boulder which crushes his feet, other crews chipped away at the smaller parts of the passage so others could enter.

At dawn today most of the debris had been cleared from about Collins. Each piece of rock or bag of earth was passed tediously from hand to hand to the entrance. Chiselling operations began immediately.

With rescue apparently only a few hours away, Collins grew hysterical early today and beat against the walls of the narrow passage where he has lain a prisoner since Friday morning.

Crews of expert miners were drilling their way through 300 feet of narrow crevices which bar all but very slender men from the victim.

Noise of the automatic drill which started after a dash from Louisville on train and motor trucks aroused Collins from his stupor. He started to shout and cheer at the workers.

Not until an opiate passed along the long relay of men lying flat on their faces in the narrow crevice was administered to Collins was he calm again.

Despite his suffering and exhaustion, Collins actually slept a few hours during the night comforted by the presence of a friend who braved the dangers of falling shell rock and rising waters to be with him.

John Jeralds of Cave City spent part of the night with the underground prisoner and crawled from the cave at midnight with word that he thought Collins' foot could be extricated early today.

A mine rescue squad ordered here by Governor Fields of Kentucky was early on the job. The governor also proposed to send National Guards, if necessary.

Collins was conscious early today, his head resting on a pillow and as much of his body as was free covered with blankets.

Acquainted With Collins

When Walter F. Easley, Lote Carter, Ed Pitman and Dr. Charles S. Green, together with their families visited the cave region of Kentucky during the summer of 1923, they became acquainted with Collins, who showed them through Crystal cave, which is near the cave where he is imprisoned.

compensation act.

The Burns bill providing for establishment of voluntary constabularies in place of the present horse-thief detective associations was advanced to second reading in the house.

Three important amendments were adopted to the bill when it was brought out of committee, one providing that the consent of the judge and sheriff in counties where the voluntary constabulary associations are formed must be obtained for their organization.

The bill will draw the fire of labor interests on second reading. Labor leaders fear the constabulary can be used to put down strikes.

The Wright "bone dry" prohibition bill and the cooperative marketing bill was transmitted to the senate from the house, where they were passed yesterday.

By a bare constitutional majority the bill abolishing fire rate making bureaus passed the senate. Senator Chambers, author of the bill, contended that the rate making bureaus of the fire insurance companies are a trust fixing rates in arbitrary manner from which the people have no recourse.

The question of bus regulation legislation was made an order of special business in the senate for Thursday afternoon when the senate found itself deadlocked on committee reports on the Moorehead bill to place the regulation under the public service commission.

Probation Work

The Indiana state probation department objects to the recommendation of the committee appointed to survey boards and commissions which advocated abolishing the probation offices, and creating a probation division under the state board of charities because of alleged duplication.

The survey committee sets out that the state board of charities now supervises some 3,000 children in private homes and their operations extend into every county, resulting in duplication, but the committee fails to draw the proper distinction between the kind of children coming under the jurisdiction of the board of charities and those who are governed by the probation department.

The probation officer deals only with delinquents quasi-delinquents or criminals and the board of charities acts solely in cases where children are dependent.

The probation officer is the right arm of the court in seeking for crime causes, that lead to delinquency and endeavors to eliminate them and restore the child to right paths so that it will grow up to become a useful citizen.

The state survey committee complimented the work that had been done along this line in the three and a half years the probation department has been in existence, pointing out that it "has restored many children to homes under supervision who would otherwise become charges of the state."

If, as the committee says, the juvenile probation commission and the state probation officer have accomplished such notable results, it would then be unwise to abolish such a department. Doing away with this office and establishing a probation division under the state board of charities would be nothing more than

Originates With People

Everyone who got no farther than the grades in school learned that the government is composed of three branches—judicial, legislative and executive, and that it is the duty of the latter to enforce the law.

Experience, however, has taught us that law enforcement really originates with the people and unless the will to have any given law enforced exists, it becomes mere printed words and phrases.

Therefore, if there is complaint of lax law enforcement, it is the obligation of the people who complain to examine their own conduct and determine whether their own attitude is right.

Attempts at compelling observing of any law, even the most trivial town ordinance, are futile unless public sentiment stands behind those sworn to enforce all laws.

Dr. Frank H. Green, county health commissioner, attended the meeting of the county health officers at Indianapolis yesterday and heard some interesting talks on the subject of health.

The fires in two big newspaper plants in the state last few days have had a direct effect in this city. As a result there will be no smoking in the Republican building back of the front offices.

Verne Norris, new county chairman has issued his first call and the first meeting of the new organization will be held Saturday, Feb. 12, at one o'clock in the court house.

Play Lucy has sold his bakery in Main street to a firm which will be known as the Independent Bakery company.

Dr. Frank Green has some automobile figures which are interesting. Incidentally he is again an "old fashioned doctor" and will be for a few weeks while his machine is being painted. He is driving a horse, which looks a bit odd for Dr. Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McBride, Mr. and Mrs. John Gilson, Misses Bernice Rhodes and Myrtle McBride and George Rhodes and Harold Gilson were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rhodes Tuesday. (Center correspondent.)

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pate and son Berlin and Mrs. Orlena Shoppelle were guests of Loyd Wagoner Sunday. (Gowdy correspondent.)

James Foley and Ralph Harrold went to New Castle today to repair a hot water plant which was damaged recently when the boiler blew up.

Mrs. George Griesser left today for a visit with relatives in Cincinnati.

Dr. J. B. Kinsinger returned yesterday afternoon from Oklahoma, where he had a pleasant visit with his family. They will return about April 1st.

Miss Mary Ellen Carol has resigned her position at the Kramer meat market.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Davidson, living south of the city, are suffering with a slight illness.

All the political lame ducks who were "mentioned" for the Ambassadorship in London are now being named for Berlin, but Mr. Coolidge will have the last word.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—The capital already is beginning to spruce up for its big quadrennial show—the presidential inauguration, March 4.

Sprucing up for Coolidge how ever is a rather difficult job.

The president, preferring simplicity and unostentatiousness himself, would like the affair over with without a bit of flub-dub and ceremony.

But custom and precedent can not be wholly overridden even by so "common sense" a president as Coolidge.

Custom decrees that the victorious party shall throw one grand and glorious celebration on the occasion of the standard bearer's inauguration.

So, although Coolidge has succeeded in toning down considerably the lavish festivities, he has not been able to eliminate them wholly.

He forbade an official inaugural ball, requested that visiting governors bring only small staffs with them, and ordered that no military units be brought to Washington.

He wouldn't even authorize the expenditure of carfare necessary to bring the West Point and Annapolis cadets to Washington.

And an inauguration without the presence of these cadets a few years ago would have been considered no inauguration at all.

HOWEVER, despite the presidential parsimony which has hamstringed the plans for a big blowout, Washington and the party nabobs are hoping to make it a passably good show anyway.

For those who just must dance after an inauguration, a "charity ball" is being organized to take the place of an official inaugural ball.

This will be held in the city's biggest new hotel—which in honor of the president's New England origins has been christened the Mayflower—and will be "limited" to 4500 guests. Tickets will be only $10.

Whether this price was established in deference to Coolidge economy or in anticipation of Coolidge prosperity is not stated.

In further recognition of the president's descent from colonial, Revolutionary stock, the official colors to be used in decorating the city are blue and buff.

Having been the colors of the uniforms worn by the Continental army, the choice seems appropriate.

"Blue and buff," however, is something of a tongue-twister, and, as a cynical Democrat remarked, if spoken without care may emerge as "Boo and buff."

But then the Democrats don't see much cheer ahead for March 4, anyway!

A fan from Milroy, writes in and says they got cheated. The tourney cup doesn't hold a quart. It lacks an ounce, he says. Wonder what he expected for $16.96.

AND KOKOMO OUGHT TO KNOW

"Anderson is the best team we have seen this year, in our opinion," says the Press Box in the Kokomo Tribune.

'Nother verse to the little hate poem, is from "What the Stars Say" Frankfort Times. It is: The guy we hate is old Bill Dunn; when the score is tied, he asks, who won.

Now that the storm of the county tourney has passed, things will be quiet until the sectional March 6-7. The Ihsaa rules forbid tourneys after February 1, so teams can settle down for the first lap in the big race for honors.

The biggest noise in Indiana will come forth Friday night from Vincennes. The Washington hatchets will try to annex their 16th straight victory, and the game is one of those "Battle of the Century" conflicts, such as termed by Rushville and Connersville.

While all of the rest of the state scribes are pickin' Vincennes, Hittin' 'em picks Washington. If they lose, we will be in a class by ourselves, and if they win, well, we'd be some class as a picker.

Spicebland lost 16 games before they won one. Therefore we haven't any reason to feel bad over a loss now and then.

DING BAT COMES TO AID US IN FILLING UP THIS COLUMN

Dear Hittin' 'em:

Watch Milroy in the sectional March 6-7, they will be hard to beat. Did you notice they did very little dribbling? They sure had some fine pass work.

Alexander the tall sapling from Moscow was the best center in the tourney. That boy could cage them from all angles. Wouldn't he look great on the Rushville team next year?

Riddle of Arlington was another player who deserves mention. He is a good clean player who never loses his temper.

Some Rushville fans in their rush to get back in the gym at Greensburg last Friday night broke some glass in the door. Better settle before the sheriff comes.

Some person or persons stole Milroy's sweaters while the team was on the floor. It is a mystery how they expect to wear them with that name RED DEVILS on the back.

The Red Devils and the Go Devils put up a devil of a game.

That boy Joyce sure looked good against Richmond. He was all over the floor.

The Lions showed they are a better team than Greensburg, although they were defeated. The regulars made more points than Greensburg after they were sent into the game. The score stood 12 to 4 when Swain sent them in, and the game ended 31 to 36. So you see the regulars scored 30 points, while Greensburg was scoring 24. It looks reasonable that they would make more than 4, and would have held Greensburg to less than 12 if they had started the game.

Foul shots caused Morton of Richmond to falter and lose 27 to 26 in a game with South Bend Friday night. Those little one pointers have lost or won many a game, and a look at the score book for Rushville shows that it spelled defeat at least three times. Make 'em count from that black line.

Headline in Shelbyville Democrat Saturday said the Camels had ended their losing streak of six straight games. The end, however, didn't last long, because they lost again Saturday night. Tuff, Shelby, but lot of things can take place between now and the big tourney. That's what we're figurin' on up here.

TAKES SLAP AT SHELBY

Basketbawls of Washington comments on the above as follows:

After losing five straight, Shelbyville got in the win column, taking South Side of Ft. Wayne 53 to 44. And just to think, last week Wash-bash played the Ft. Wayne outfit and registered her first win of the season. What's the trouble, Mr. Campbell?

Why Magnates Dodge Courts?

By HENRY L. FARRELL,
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Feb. 3—No more details of the New York Giant scandal last fall will be made known unless Jerry O'Connell and Cozy Dolan break the silence in which they have wrapped themselves strangely since Commissioner Landis barred them from organized baseball.

Perhaps there are no more details to be given and perhaps there is nothing more to be said, but many baseball fans cannot be convinced that all has been told until a better motive has been produced for the attempted bribe of a Philadelphia player than was brought out in the testimony that the Commissioner released some time ago.

There must have been some purpose in attempting such a dangerous method of winning a ball game with the help of the opposition. There was no motive brought out in the testimony that was published, with the exception of the weird suggestion of Frank Frisch, the captain of the Giants and a college man, that there had been some kidding going on.

Some baseball players must have the idea of some of the club owners that the baseball public will stand for anything when excuses are advanced that such joking around and kidding and things like that are always found on a pennant contending team.

It is hard to believe that Cozy Dolan, a coach on the Giants, who wasn't making half the salary of some of the Giant players, would be so big-hearted as to dig down in his pants for $500 to pay the player of another team to throw a ball game. Dolan never was known among ball players as being very free with his funds.

Dolan must not have been working alone and it isn't reasonable to believe that he originated the plan of buying the game and tried to put it through alone. Until Dolan is forced to say something more than "I don't remember"—the real facts, if there are some that haven't been disclosed, will remain the same mystery in which the case is now classed.

Commissioner Landis had the opportunity to get the players under oath when District Attorney Banton of New York offered to put the case before the grand jury as an alleged violation of the section of the New York statutes which make it a felony to attempt to bribe a baseball player.

This section was passed in 1921 and it was endorsed, if not actually sponsored, by baseball officials. It seems strange that these baseball officials, when they said they were digging to the very bottom, did not recall that they had a criminal law to help them force the players to refresh their memories and to tell the truth.

District Attorney Banton said he would proceed if the Commissioner would furnish him the evidence upon which he could ask for an indictment. If Landis does not accept the invitation to turn over the evidence, it may be that he believes he hasn't a case for the courts, because he said during the world's series that "no court in the world would convict Frisch, Young and Kelly on that testimony."

TELEPHONE SUPERVISOR

Tells of the Benefit Received by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Leavenworth, Kansas. — "My work was long-distance operating and supervising, and I got into a very nervous state and was all run-down. I was easily annoyed at trifles, was extremely nervous and always had a tired feeling which made me awfully listless. Through a newspaper I learned of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thinking it would help me I tried it. It quieted my nerves, I was less annoyed and more lively. It took away that dragging feeling and improved my health in every way. I was able to continue my work with more vigor than before and I recommend the Vegetable Compound to all young girls. I am married now and have a big baby boy and am in the best of health. If I should ever have any trouble I'll take the Vegetable Compound again, for I know it will help me as it did before." — Mrs. O. W. Thiel, 925 Pawnee Street, Leavenworth, Kansas.

ECHOES FROM THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 3.—The theory of the county unit educational system points to federal control of our school system, and if carried to the ultimate conclusion would lead to the communist theory that the state should control the children.

This was the observation today of Senator Lindley, of Kingman, on the county unit educational bill now in committee in the senate.

Lindley is chairman of the committee on agriculture of the upper house and is especially interested in the bill as far as it effects the country schools.

Lindley declared the measure would bring the county schools directly under control of the state board of education, which is an ex-officio board over which the legislature can exercise no control.

"I'm not working to hold the jobs of township trustees out of the fire," Lindley said, "The principle of centralized control of our schools is a vital issue in the bill."

Mrs. O. M. "It is very important that many of the leading club women attend and sufficient funds be raised to defray the expense of entertainment. The call for this ten cents per member is our own urgent need—the other requests made of club members are optional."

"We have invited the council to Indiana. Let us entertain it royally. Nothing else is worthy of us. Nothing less will suit the occasion, and nothing less will leave us happy and without embarrassment after it is over."

"This meeting should advance our club work years if we will seize the opportunity which is ours."

Institute then goes back to her school and each week meets her teachers, training them thoroughly on every song—and bit of Technical work they are to do during the coming week. No grade teacher is asked to do one thing which she has not been previously trained to do. Always two weeks in advance the supervisors and teachers receive their outlines of the work they are to give in each grade, each week during the month. Each class gets thirty-minutes music every day except high school which has forty-minutes concentrated work twice a week. Music is a drill subject and will never succeed on the twenty-minutes each week basis.

"The first week of school we play a little game in each room called 'Engine and Car'. Each child tries to match the tone C with the teacher singing 'Toot-toot'. If he does it easily, it means he can carry a tune, we will call him a 'car' but if he does not match the tone at all we call him an 'Engine' because he must 'Toot-toot' every day until he is able to match one tone. Our progress then is made in every room by the 'Cars'. The reason the 'Engines' are unable to sing is because they have sung the wrong tones so long that their ears have been dulled to a correct sense of pitch so that they not only do not hear the tone you sing to them but are unable to reproduce it. The only cure for an 'Engine' or non-singer is to be separated from the 'Cars' and listen to the correct tones with daily drill to matching tones with the teacher.

"Our first technical work is in ear-training which we accomplish through the medium of song. All songs are taught by rote. The teacher sings the song entirely through twice, then she sings the first phrase twice, the children are listening closely all the while. The teacher gives them the correct tone on the pitch pipe and they sing the first phrase from memory, after having listened to the teacher. The second phrase is built the same way. So on until the song has been learned. We have accomplished two things when we are through. A beautiful rote song has been learned, correct as to pitch, expression and rhythm, and their ears have been trained to reproduce the song entirely by rote. Children's voices grow in comparison with their bodies, therefore a six-year-old first grade child would have a very small voice. The child voice is naturally sweet, soft and pitched very high.

"The technical work in all the county schools has been sadly neglected because there has been no organization to the work—every school had a supervisor who did her work in her own way, with no one to check up on her results. Now every one has definite work which they are trained to do, they have definite results which I know can be accomplished and which we are accomplishing.

"I am bringing to your club meeting a first and second grade, who not only sing for you some of the songs learned in their daily work, but will demonstrate their Toy Band, whose director is a little girl seven years old. This Band will be in uniform, every child in the room will play an instrument. This is our lowest form of musical development technically, and grades seven and eight from the same school will sing and give some of the higher technical developments of our program. This room demonstrates the changing voice problem which most of you men will appreciate.

"The change voices in this room were almost all 'engines' when school started. They hated music in this school to such an extent that they had petitioned the faculty against taking it. Now they have it every day and would have it twice a day if the faculty would permit. I will leave it to your judgment whether or not you think it has been worth while."

TWO ADMINISTRATION BILLS ARE INTRODUCED

One Provides For Concentration of all Fees and Taxes in the State General Fund

PERMANENT BUDGET BOARD

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 3.—Two of the administration's finance bills were introduced in the legislature Monday by Representative L. A. Pittenger, of Selma Republican floor leader.

One bill provides for the concentration of all fees and taxes in the general fund, from which specific appropriations will be made for the highway commission and other departments deriving their funds largely from special sources.

Under the bill the revenue from the auto license fees, the gasoline tax and the inheritance tax, now going directly to the highway commission, would be turned into the general fund.

The second bill calls for the creation of a permanent budget advisory board subject to the call of the governor at any time.

Functions of the permanent board would be similar to those of the present legislative budget advisory committee which aids in drawing up the appropriations program for the general assembly.

"Love's Wilderness," Princess

A magazine writer, in a recent review of the film career of Corinne Griffith, referred to her as "beauty in distress." Her pictures, he added, almost always showed her in difficulty because of her pulchritude.

In "Love's Wilderness," her latest First National production, Corinne faces quite a different situation. She is still "beauty in distress"; however, it is not because of her wealth. It is her comeliness which leads her into difficulty.

The story, written by Evelyn Campbell, a well known writer, shows Corinne as the belle of a little Louisiana town and engaged to wed an explorer. She tires of waiting for him to return, though, and finally elopes with a comparative stranger.

In the wilds of Canada, where the couple seek to make their home, Corinne is afforded opportunity to display perhaps the most pretentious bit of tensely dramatic acting of her career. She is shown as an abandoned wife, fighting for her life in a blinding blizzard.

Corinne continues to be "beauty in distress," but pre-view critics of "Love's Wilderness" assert that here she is more beautiful and in greater distress than ever before. Holmes Herbert and Ian Keith are her supporting cast.

The picture will be at the Princess theatre Wednesday.

Grandmother's Cough Remedy—Pine Tar and Honey—Still Best

A well-known specialist said recently that although many wonderful medical discoveries have been made in recent years, nobody has found a better and quicker healing agent for coughs, colds, spasmodic croup, hoarseness, throat tickling and other throat and bronchial troubles than good old pine tar and honey. Our grandmothers would never be without pine tar syrup in the house, and they raised large families. It still remains one of the few medicines that can be given to young and old alike, as it contains no harmful drugs.

The pine tar quickly soothes and heals soreness and irritation, and by loosening the phlegm removes the actual cause of the coughing. The honey is not only pleasant to the taste but also very soothing to the throat.

The kind that has been used with never-failing success in thousands of families for years is that known as Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. This is scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine tar, honey and other quick-acting, healing ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in quick relief. If you want the best, be sure to get Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. It costs only 50c at any good drugstore.

Today the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) Introduces to the Motorists of Rushville

SOLITE (REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.) A PERFECT GASOLINE

Solite is a light volatile gasoline that is more than merely high-test. While Solite is high-test it also is unique because it drives the piston the full stroke under power.

This is not true of the ordinary so-called "high-test" gasoline.

Solite is an achievement of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) refineries. It has every essential quality necessary in a motor fuel. Solite is made for the many motorists

- who prefer a more volatile gasoline.
- who demand instant, rhythmic response from their motors.
- who want more than so-called "high-test" gasoline.
- who are willing for these reasons to forego extreme economy of operation.

Look for the
Solite Sign

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) recommends Solite Gasoline to the motorist who insists on a little quicker action from his engine and is willing to pay a little more to get it.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) will continue to market and recommend its popular Red Crown Gasoline for maximum power at minimum cost. Also it will maintain the quality of that powerful economy fuel.

Prove the merits of Solite Gasoline in your car. Try it today. In Solite and Red Crown you have, without question, the two best gasolines that can be produced for the modern automobile engine.

COUNTY UNIT BILL TOPIC AT SESSION

County Board of Education Discuss
Many Phases of Proposed New
Bill at Meeting Monday

WOULD ABOLISH OFFICES

New Law Would Also do Away With
High Schools in Many Townships
in Rush County

A busy meeting took place Monday afternoon when the county board of education held their monthly session in the court house, and among the things discussed was the proposed county unit bill, which is pending in the state legislature.

The bill, if passed, will abolish the office of township trustee, of which in this county the twelve members comprise the county board of education. If the bill is passed, the township trustees will vacate office May first.

Among other things taken up at the meeting yesterday were the fixing of some of the commencement dates for the township schools. Dates definitely decided upon are Manilla on April 24; Milroy on April 27; Arlington on April 21; and New Salem April 22.

Miss Alice Piersol, county music supervisor, gave her report that was carried over from the last meeting, in which she reviewed the progress of her work since assuming the place in September. She also announced that each school would be prepared to furnish music for their commencements this spring.

She also pointed to the music memory contests to be held March 17, 24 and 28. The Rev. Gibson Wilson was introduced and he offered his services to the trustees for commencement addresses.

Principles of the schools were asked by County superintendent Farthing to sponsor the oratorical contest to be held soon, and also called attention to an essay contest being conducted on good sportsmanship.

In discussing the county unit plan, which abolishes the township trustees, and creates a board of 5 members to serve in that capacity, several items were pointed out as to way in which it would affect Rush county.

If the law passes, it becomes effective May first. The first board of 5 members will be selected as follows: Each commissioner appoints one member, and the judge of the circuit court appoints the other two members. Hereafter the board members are elected by the people on their county ballots.

These five board members draw an annual salary of $100. This is the primary purpose of the law, which is to reduce costs, and abolish the annual salaries of the township trustees. The new board is to appoint a county school superintendent. The county commissioners, under the county unit law, have more work, as they must assume a portion of the work now carried on by the trustees.

The plan of the county unit law also is to reduce educational costs in a county. This is accomplished by consolidation. In Rush county there are 12 consolidated high schools, and this number would be reduced one-half, under the county unit plan.

The high schools at Moscow, Arlington, Center, Gings, Webb, would no doubt be abolished, with possibly another one in the list. Pupils would be sent to finish high school courses in schools nearest them. The grade schools would be retained in all of the communities, and possibly Junior high schools, but the total of full commissioned high schools would be reduced, as a part of the plan worked out under the provisions of the county unit law.

The law has many good features, it has been pointed out, and also many other features which would not work to the satisfaction of all communities.

"BLUE LAW" BILL GIVEN NEW CHANCE

Minority Report Favoring Adoption

BASEBALL MEASURE FAILS

Senate Also Passes Bill Regulating
Sale of Pistols—House Acts On
Administration Bills

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 3.—The Sunday "Blue Law" bill was given a chance for life in the house of representatives today.

Following an appeal by Representative Kissinger of Columbia City, its sponsor, that every member be permitted to get acquainted with the measure, the house adopted a minority report of the committee on public morals for passage.

The bill now goes to second reading.

The house also adopted a committee report for indefinite postponement of the bill prohibiting Sunday baseball.

Without argument the senate passed the bill introduced by Senator Holmes of Gary for the regulating of the sale and possession of pistols and revolvers. The vote was 35 to 5.

Quick action was taken on the two Pittenger bills introduced in the house yesterday when that body adopted favorable committee report for passage. One bill would turn all fees and revenues of all state departments into the general fund and the other would create a permanent state budget advisory board.

The house passed to third reading the bill to put "teeth" into the present "Blue Sky" law following the acceptance of two amendments.

The Shirley bill to prevent raises in salaries of state and county officials during the term for which they were elected, was sent to engrossment in the house after attempts by Representative Clements of Evansville to amend the measure.

Clements argued that the bill was unconstitutional.

The senate passed two bills to require public utilities to bear the entire expense of investigations made by the public service commission, for rate making purposes.

The Hurlan garnishes bill authorizing garnishments on incomes was passed by the senate at the afternoon session yesterday by a vote of 30 to 35.

Some objection was raised to the bill on the ground that it would pinch the poor man most, but there was comparatively little opposition.

A similar bill has met defeat in practically every session of the Indiana legislature for nearly forty years.

The senate labor committee took under consideration the bill to increase compensation from $13.50 to $16.50 and to revise the present law to provide more liberal terms of administration of the compensation acts.

A public hearing was held on the bill last night at which T. N. Taylor, president of the state federation of labor and other labor leaders urged its passage.

Taylor declared the present basis of $13.50 compensation was passed ten years ago when the cost of living was much cheaper.

Speakers arguing against the bill contended "it would be unwise to make idleness too attractive" through too liberal terms in the

Toiling at Top Speed But With Un-

Spot Where Floyd Collins Lies in
Grip of Boulder Rolling on Him
Last Friday

(By United Press)

Cave City, Ky., Feb. 3.—Men drove into the bowels of the earth here today to save Floyd Collins. Three hundred feet down in an uncharted cavern, Collins lies helpless in the grip of a boulder that rolled upon him Friday morning.

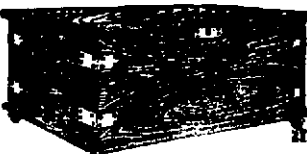

"We will have to dig to him. There is no other hope." Under this decision the most practiced hands and formidable machines that can be mustered were waiting to work.

Toiling at top speed but with unfailing precision, the rescuers sank their shaft toward a point directly behind the spot where Collins lies. All other means of rescue attempted have failed.

Gripped in a passage way scarcely ten inches high, Collins waits beyond the aid of those who have dared the labyrinth to help him. They have wrapped him in blankets such portions of his body as they can reach. Food and drink have been passed to him but the tons of rocks weighing upon his leg denied further help.

"Don't let them pull me," Collins

RUSH COUNTY BOYS ARE NAMED CADET OFFICERS

Howard Meid of Walker Township
and Howard C. Patterson of New
Salem Honored at Purdue

IN AN ARTILLERY BRIGADE

(Special to The Daily Republican)

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 3.—Howard Henry Meid of Walker township, Rush county, a senior in the School of Agriculture, and Howard C. Patterson of New Salem, a junior taking the agricultural course, have been officers on the cadet field artillery brigade at Purdue. Meid was named a captain and Patterson a second lieutenant.

The selection of the two Rush county students for the responsible offices indicates the ability which they have demonstrated in military training.

The Purdue Reserve Officers' Training Corps consists of over 1500 officers and men and is the largest university or college artillery unit in the United States. It also is the only one with motorized equipment.

Military training is required of all freshmen and sophomore students in Purdue as in all land grant institutions, and practically 1250 are taking the basic course, while 250 juniors and seniors are taking the advanced course which is optional.

Under the present National Defense Act of the United States, Congress has provided, that the Army of the United States shall consist of the Regular Army, the National Guard while in the service of the United States and the Organized Reserves. Cadets Meid and Patterson and the students of his class will be commissioned second lieutenants in officers Reserve Corps upon completion of four years training in the Purdue R. O. T. C. Each year the War Department also commissions a certain percent of the R. O. T. C. graduating class as Second Lieutenants in the Regular Army without further examination other than physical.

Plans for the Howell bridge in Center township were approved and bids for its construction will be received March 2.

Daniel Flanagan, 21, Fatally Hurt
Doing Fancy Riding

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 3.—Daniel Flanagan, 21, of Chicago, died early today at the hospital at Fort Benjamin Harrison from a fractured skull suffered Sunday when a horse he was riding slipped and fell.

Flanagan, a freshman at Wabash College, was visiting at the home of Hubert Woodsmall, Jr., 3311 N. Meridian street. He went to Fort Harrison Sunday and borrowed a horse belonging to an army lieutenant.

He was giving an exhibition of fancy riding when the horse slipped. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Flanagan, Chicago, were spending the winter in Florida. They will arrive in Indianapolis tonight.

FURNACE DOOR IS BLOWN OFF

Coal Dust Explodes, Setting J. H.
Stevens' House on Fire

The explosion of coal dust in an inside heating plant at the home of J. H. Stevens, 609 West First street caused quite a scare this morning at 8 o'clock and filled the house with smoke.

The door of the furnace was blown off and much of the fire was thrown about the room in which the heater was located. The rug and curtains caught fire. The stove door barely missed Mr. Stevens, when the explosion occurred. The fire department was called, and both pumpers answered the call, but the blaze was extinguished with the booster line, and the loss estimated at about $10 or $15.

HEADS COMMITTEE TO OPPOSE BILL

John H. Kiplinger in Charge of
Campaign to Prevent Change in
State War Memorial

LEGION FIGHTING MEASURE

Points Out That Restriction of Plaza Plan Would Affect National
Headquarters

John H. Kiplinger, chairman of the legislative committee of the Indiana department of the American Legion, is at the head of the movement being organized against the Penrod bill in the state legislature, which would prohibit the state war memorial commission from erecting any part of the main memorial building in the square in Indianapolis in which the Second Presbyterian and First Baptist churches are situated.

The Legion's legislative committee met in Indianapolis Sunday afternoon to devise some plan to defeat the bill, which has already passed the senate and which, according to the Legion committee, will affect the national headquarters of the Legion which have been moved to Indianapolis.

Oscar Ahlgren of Whiting and Ber Stephenson of Rockville, together with Mr. Kiplinger, were appointed as a special committee to oppose the bill on behalf of the Legion. A public hearing on the measure will be held Wednesday night.

Mr. Kiplinger gave out an interview in Indianapolis, in which he called attention to the effect the Penrod bill would have on the war memorial.

"Inasmuch as the American Legion brought about the war memorial project as a tribute to our fallen comrades," said Mr. Kiplinger, "I believe we should support with all our power the stand taken by the war memorial board in opposing anything that would tend to restrict the ultimate development of the memorial. Inasmuch as the war memorial commission has title to the south block bounded by Meridian, Pennsylvania, Vermont and Michigan streets, with the exception of the sites occupied by the two churches, it would not be fair for the legislature to say that the memorial building could not occupy that block. The Penrod bill, however, would make it impossible for the building to be constructed on the south block.

"We believe we should resist what is an apparent attempt to force the sale of those churches to the war memorial board at high prices. The former service men, who are interested in the memorial, are not asking for anything more from the legislature, not even a bonus, which has been granted in so many other states. We believe the legislature, Indianapolis and Marion county paid a high tribute to former service men when it made possible, through generous provisions, the acquisition of the plaza tract and money with which to construct the memorial. We believe it would be unfair for us to ask anything more from the taxpayers at the present time.

"All we ask is the right to continue with the development of the memorial plan as it has been outlined. The board already has spent more than $100,000 in preparing for the execution of the project, and if it is forced by the enactment of the Penrod bill to alter its plans, it would

sor, Presents 64 Moscow Pupils at
Rotary Club Meeting

WORK KEENLY APPRECIATED

"Baby Band" is Marvel of Program
Given to Show Development of
School Music Training

Miss Alice Piersol, supervisor of music in the township schools of Rush county, and Mrs. Claudia Force, teacher of music in the Moscow school, presented sixty-four grade pupils from Moscow in a music demonstration before the Rushville Rotary club at the weekly luncheon today noon.

Miss Piersol explained the method she uses in training pupils and showed by demonstration how the present-day plan was accomplishing results, not alone in teaching children how to sing, but in giving them an appreciation of music.

Members of the club gave the closest attention to the program and applauded each number with the keen appreciation of the way children are learning music under the county-wide supervision plan. Miss Piersol and Mrs. Force received many compliments for the exhibition.

First grade pupils sang a group of three songs and were followed by second grade pupils, who also sang three selections. The "baby band," under the direction of Mabel Benson, age 7, a second grade pupil, rendered three number to phonograph accompaniment, and was the marvel of the program. Members of the band appeared in costume.

A group of seventh and eighth grade pupils demonstrated that boys and girls can be taught to like music if it is properly taught. They sang several numbers, showing marvelous development in six months, and then "talked" to Miss Piersol in music, by answering her when she played notes on the piano.

No special preparation was made for the program, as regular classroom work was presented.

Guests present at the meeting aside from Miss Piersol and Mrs. Force were Norma Patterson, principal of the Moscow school; George Hardesty, Orange township trustee; Mrs. Hardesty; B. D. Farthing, county superintendent of schools; Ted Kelley of Indianapolis and William Boher of this city.

The club voted previous to the program to join with the Kiwanis club in a boosters' banquet this spring to carry on the county boosters' program started last spring.

In introducing the pupils taking part in the demonstration, Miss Piersol explained the Rush county system of music supervision in the township schools as follows:

"I wonder if some of you business men have ever thought of the problems we music supervisors have to face when your boys and girls come to us in the fall? What do we do with the boys and girls who are unable to carry a tune? The ones who are unable even to match one tone? Do we consider him hopeless? We do not!

"Our system of music is uniform throughout the county. We use the Holbs Dunn music series exclusively. Grades one and two do not use books this year. Book one is in the hands of the teacher only. Grades three and four use Book Two, each child having a book in his hand. Grade five, six, seven and eight use Book Three for their technical work and for song material we supplement the "Golden Book of Songs" because the song material in Book Three is too babyish. In all eleven of the county high schools we use the Holbs Dunn Junior Song Book. We do Chorus work in three parts, Soprano, Alto and Bass. In all grades above the fifth we are offering the State Music Memory Contest for the Cultural and Appreciation side of the music course.

"We believe that the best results always are obtained in any subject when the grade teacher does the work. I have only one assistant in the county who has had training other than the training she has received from me at the county institutes which are held each month. One person from each school has been selected to act as music supervisor. She, or he, receive the training at

BOOSTS CITY PAYROLL

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 3.—City officials today estimated that the city payroll will be boosted $110,000 annually through a salary increase voted firemen and policemen by the city council last night. The increase of 50 cents a day becomes effective July 1.

LIVING WITH-
OUT A STOMACH

That's about how it is when your stomach is in first class order, you hardly know that you have one.

But what a difference when it isn't working right! You begin to think it is about the worst enemy you have and that it will get you sooner or later. You wish you could get along without it.

You need not get to that state if you will take care of the one you have. Treat it right by eating right, the things it should have, and not overeat.

If you haven't taken care of it, and are bothered with indigestion, you can still help it out with Di-Jo. Here's a real aid to digestion. It is surprising how quickly you can be relieved of that heavy overloaded feeling after meals. Di-Jo Tablets taken after meals help your stomach digest the food. They help prevent gas and that bloating. Their ingredients are intended to absorb that gas. They neutralize the acid condition in the stomach, and help you get rid of that unpleasant belching and sour stomach. Just a few tablets necessary.

The various drugs used in Di-Jo are the same as those prescribed by very many family physicians for indigestion and deranged stomachs. Di-Jo is compounded by one of the best pharmacists in America. They are absolutely harmless.

Better get a bottle and either relieve your present disorder, or be prepared in case you should overeat or your stomach weakens and get you into misery. Your nearest druggist sells them.

If you are troubled with constipation take DI-VAC. It is sold by all druggists and is recommended as the proper laxative to be used in connection with Di-Jo, if any is needed.

CONTEST COMMITTEE TO
MAP OUT ITS PROGRAM

Will Decide Tonight How to Settle
Dispute Over State Supreme Court
Election

POINTS OF LAW INVOLVED

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 3.—The joint legislative committee to hear the contest petition in the election of Benjamin Willoughby, Republican, to the state supreme court, was to meet tonight to map out a course of procedure.

There are numerous points of law involved in the contest to be cleared up before the committee starts its investigation, Senator Harlan, of Wayne county, chairman of the committee, said.

No evidence is to be taken at the meeting tonight and it was indicated that the attorney general may be asked for a formal opinion on the powers of the committee before it starts its work.

Some members of the legislature claim that the trial committee can declare George Denton, Democrat, elected if the charges in the petition are substantiated, while others say the committee could only find the office vacant.

The contest petition was filed with the legislature on behalf of the Indiana Anti-Saloon League without Denton's consent. Denton has indicated that he will take no hand in the legislative contest, saying he would rather fight it out in the courts, where he now has a mandamus suit pending to compel the secretary of state to accept corrected returns from several counties which would give him the victory.

AMENDMENT HEARING TONIGHT

Child Labor Question Will be Discussed Before Committee

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 3.—A public hearing was called for tonight by the committee on federal relations of the state senate on the child labor amendment to the federal constitution.

The amendment has been under consideration by the committee for more than a week and will be reported out shortly after the public hearing tonight.

Although enough states have already voted against ratification to insure defeat of the amendment, the amendment will be considered in due form by the Indiana legislature.

Opponents of ratification by the Indiana legislature claim they have enough votes rounded up in both houses to insure unfavorable action.

Manufacturing interests and farmers in particular are opposed to the amendment.

Rescuers Work feverishly in Fresh Effort to Reach Man Buried in Cave

drillers expected to free Collins by noon today.

Because of showers of rock and gravel loosened by the giant air-compression drill rushed here from Louisville yesterday, only hand tools could be used.

While those able to reach Collins through the narrow crevices, labored to make room for work on the boulder which crushes his feet, other crews chipped away at the smaller parts of the passage so others could enter.

At dawn today most of the debris had been cleared from about Collins. Each piece of rock or bag of earth was passed tediously from hand to hand to the entrance. Chiselling operations began immediately.

With rescue apparently only a few hours away, Collins grew hysterical early today and beat against the walls of the narrow passage where he has lain a prisoner since Friday morning.

Crews of expert miners were drilling their way through 300 feet of narrow crevices which bar all but very slender men from the victim.

Noise of the automatic drill which started after a dash from Louisville on train and motor trucks aroused Collins from his stupor. He started to shout and cheer at the workers.

Not until an opiate passed along the long relay of men lying flat on their faces in the narrow crevice was administered to Collins was he calm again.

Despite his suffering and exhaustion, Collins actually slept a few hours during the night comforted by the presence of a friend who braved the dangers of falling shell rock and rising waters to be with him.

John Jerald of Cave City spent part of the night with the underground prisoner and crawled from the cave at midnight with word that he thought Collins' foot could be extricated early today.

A mine rescue squad ordered here by Governor Fields of Kentucky was early on the job. The governor also proposed to send National Guards, if necessary.

Collins was conscious early today, his head resting on a pillow and as much of his body as was free covered with blankets.

Acquainted With Collins

Several Rushville men are acquainted with Floyd Collins, who has been held a prisoner in a cave near Cave City, Ky., since last Friday morning.

When Walter F. Easley, Lote Carter, Ed Pitman and Dr. Charles S. Green, together with their families visited the cave region of Kentucky during the summer of 1923, they became acquainted with Collins, who showed them through Crystal cave, which is near the cave where he is imprisoned.

The Burns bill providing for establishment of voluntary constabularies in place of the present horse-thief detective associations was advanced to second reading in the house.

Three important amendments were adopted to the bill when it was brought out of committee, one providing that the consent of the judge and sheriff in counties where the voluntary constabulary associations are formed must be obtained for their organization.

The bill will draw the fire of labor interests on second reading. Labor leaders fear the constabulary can be used to put down strikes.

The Wright "bone dry" prohibition bill and the cooperative marketing bill was transmitted to the senate from the house, where they were passed yesterday.

By a bare constitutional majority the bill abolishing fire rate making bureaus passed the senate. Senator Chambers, author of the bill, contended that the rate making bureaus of the fire insurance companies are a trust fixing rates in arbitrary manner from which the people have no recourse.

The question of bus regulation legislation was made an order of special business in the senate for Thursday afternoon when the senate found itself deadlocked on committee reports on the Moorehead bill to place the regulation under the public service commission.

BIBLE THOUGHT

FOR TODAY

Be Charitable:—Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such a one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted. Galathians 6:1.

Prayer:—Most merciful God, help us to bear one another's burdens and so fulfill the law of Christ. Amen.

Probation Work

The Indiana state probation department objects to the recommendation of the committee appointed to survey boards and commissions which advocated abolishing the probation offices, and creating a probation division under the state board of charities because of alleged duplication.

The survey committee sets out that the state board of charities now supervises some 3,000 children in private homes and their operations extend into every county, resulting in duplication, but the committee fails to draw the proper distinction between the kind of children coming under the jurisdiction of the board of charities and those who are governed by the probation department.

The probation officer deals only with delinquents quasi-delinquents or criminals and the board of charities acts solely in cases where children are dependent.

The probation officer is the right arm of the court in seeking for crime causes that lead to delinquency and endeavors to eliminate them and restore the child to right paths

so that it will grow up to become a useful citizen.

The state survey committee complimented the work that had been done along this line in the three and a half years the probation department has been in existence, pointing out that it "has restored many children to homes under supervision who would otherwise become charges of the state."

If, as the committee says, the juvenile probation commission and the state probation officer have accomplished such notable results, it would then be unwise to abolish such a department. Doing away with this office and establishing a probation division under the state board of charities would be nothing more than a waste of money.

Originate With People

Everyone who got no farther than the grades in school learned that the government is composed of three branches—judicial, legislative and executive, and that it is the duty of the latter to enforce the law.

Experience, however, has taught us that law enforcement really originates with the people and unless the will to have any given law enforced exists, it becomes mere printed words and phrases.

Therefore, if there is complaint of lax law enforcement, it is the obligation of the people who complain to examine their own conduct and determine whether their own attitude is right.

Attempts at compelling observance of any law, even the most trifling town ordinance, are futile unless public sentiment stands behind those sworn to enforce all laws.

Must be Measurin' Ink

A fan from Milroy, writes in and says they got cheated. The tourney cup doesn't hold a quart. It lacks an ounce, he says. Wonder what he expected for $16.96.

AND KOKOMO OUGHT TO KNOW

"Anderson is the best team we have seen this year, in our opinion," says the Press Box in the Kokomo Tribune.

"Nother verse to the little hate poem, is from 'What the Stars Say' Frankfort Times. It is: The guy we hate is old Bill Dunn; when the score is tied, he asks, who won."

Now that the storm of the county tourney has passed, things will be quiet until the sectional March 6-7. The Ihsaa rules forbid tourneys after February 1, so teams can settle down for the first lap in the big race for honors.

The biggest noise in Indiana will come forth Friday night from Vincennes. The Washington hatchets will try to annex their 16th straight victory, and the game is one of those "Battle of the Century" conflicts, such as termed by Rushville and Connersville.

While all of the rest of the state scribbles are pickin' Vincennes, Hittin' 'em picks Washington. If they lose, we will be in a class by ourselves, and if they win, well, we'd be some class as a picker.

Spiceand lost 16 games before they won one. Therefore we haven't any reason to feel bad over a loss now and then.

DING BAT COMES TO AID US IN FILLING UP THIS COLUMN

Dear Hittin' 'em—
Watch Milroy in the sectional March 6-7, they will be hard to beat. Did you notice they did very little dribbling? They sure had some fine pass work.

Alexander the tall sapling from Moscow was the best center in the tourney. That boy could cage them from all angles. Wouldn't he look great on the Rushville team next year?

Readle of Arlington was another player who deserves mention. He is a good clean player who never loses his temper.

Some Rushville fans in their rush to get back in the gym at Greensburg last Friday night broke some glass in the door. Better settle before the sheriff comes.

Some person or persons stole Milroy's sweaters while the team was on the floor. It is a mystery how they expect to wear them with that name RED DEVILS on the back.

The Red Devils and the Go Devils put up a devil of a game.

That boy Joyce sure looked good against Richmond. He was all over the floor.

The Lions showed they are a better team than Greensburg, although they were defeated. The regulars made more points than Greensburg after they were sent into the game. The score stood 12 to 4 when Swain sent them in, and the game ended 34 to 36. So you see the regulars scored 30 points, while Greensburg was scoring 24. It looks reasonable that they would make more than 4, and would have held Greensburg to less than 12 if they had started the game.

Poul shots caused Morton of Richmond to falter and lose 27 to 26 in a game with South Bend Friday night. Those little one pointers have lost or won many a game, and a look at the score book for Rushville shows that it spelled defeat at least three times. Make 'em count from that black line.

Headline in Shelbyville Democrat Saturday said the Camels had ended their losing streak of six straight games. The end, however, didn't last long, because they lost again Saturday night. Tuff, Shelby, but lot of things can take place between now and the big tourney. That's what we're figurin' on up here.

Why Magnates Dodge Courts?

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Feb. 3—No more details of the New York Giant scandal last fall will be made known unless Jimmy O'Connell and Cozy Dolan break the silence in which they have wrapped themselves strangely since Commissioner Landis barred them from organized baseball.

Perhaps there are no more details to be given and, perhaps, there is nothing more to be said, but many baseball fans cannot be convinced that all has been said until a better motive has been produced for the attempted bribe of a Philadelphia player than was brought out in the testimony that the Commissioner released some time ago.

There must have been some purpose in attempting such a dangerous method of winning a ball game with the help of the opposition. There was no motive brought out in the testimony that was published, with the exception of the whet suggestion of Frank Frisch, the captain of the Giants and a college man, that there had been some kidding going on.

Some baseball players must have the idea of some of the club owners that the baseball public will stand for anything when excuses are advanced that such joking around and kidding and things like that are always found on a pennant contending team.

It is hard to believe that Cozy Dolan, a coach on the Giants, who wasn't making half the salary of some of the Giant players, would be so big-hearted as to dig down, in his pants for $500 to pay the player of another team to throw a ball game. Dolan never was known among ball players as being very free with his funds.

Dolan must not have been working alone and it isn't reasonable to believe that he originated the plan of buying the game and tried to put it through alone. Until Dolan is forced to say something more than "I don't remember"—the real facts, if there are some that haven't been disclosed, will remain the same mystery in which the case is now classed.

Commissioner Landis had the opportunity to get the players under oath when District Attorney Banton of New York offered to put the case before the grand jury as an alleged violation of the section of the New York statutes which make it a felony to attempt to bribe a baseball player.

This section was passed in 1921 and it was endorsed, if not actually sponsored, by baseball officials. It seems strange that these baseball officials, when they said they were digging to the very bottom, did not recall that they had a criminal law to help them force the players to tell the truth.

District Attorney Banton said he would proceed if the Commissioner would furnish him the evidence upon which he could ask for an indictment. If Landis does not accept the invitation to turn over the evidence, it may be that he believes he hasn't a case for the courts, because he said during the world's series that "no court in the world would convict Frisch, Young and Kelly on that testimony."

South Bend, Ind.—The Notre Dame hockey schedule was announced complete today. The Irish will play Minnesota at Minneapolis February 9 and 10 and at South Bend Feb. 23 and 24. They meet Wisconsin at Madison Feb. 11. Michigan Aggies play here Feb. 6 and get a return game at East Lansing Feb. 14.

Tells of the Benefit Received by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Leavenworth, Kansas. — "My work was long-distance operating and supervising, and I got into a very nervous state and was all run-down. I was easily annoyed at trifles, was extremely nervous and always had a tired feeling which made me awfully listless. Through a newspaper I learned of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thinking it would help me I tried it. It quieted my nerves, I was less annoyed and more lively. It took away that dragging feeling and improved my health in every way. I was able to continue my work with more vigor than before and I recommend the Vegetable Compound to all young girls. I am married now and have a big baby boy and am in the best of health. If I should ever have any trouble I'll take the Vegetable Compound again, for I know it will help me as it did before." — Mrs. O. W. Thiel, 925 Pawnee Street, Leavenworth, Kansas.

ECHOES FROM THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 3—"The theory of the county unit educational system points to federal control of our school system, and if carried to the ultimate conclusion would lead to the communist theory that the state should control the children."

This was the observation today of Senator Lindley, of Kingman, on the county unit educational bill now in committee in the senate.

Lindley is chairman of the committee on agriculture of the upper house and is especially interested in the bill as far as it affects the country schools.

Lindley declared the measure would bring the county schools directly under control of the state board of education, which is an ex-officio board over which the legislature can exercise no control.

Institute then goes back to her school and each week meets her teachers, training them thoroughly on every song—and bit of Technical work they are to do during the coming week. No grade teacher is asked to do one thing which she has not been previously trained to do. Always two weeks in advance the supervisors and teachers receive their outlines of the work they are to give in each grade, each week during the month. Each class gets thirty minutes music every day except high school which has forty minutes concentrated work twice a week. Music is a drill subject and will never succeed on the twenty-minutes each week basis.

"The first week of school we play a little game in each room called 'Engine and Car.' Each child tries to match the tone C with the teacher singing 'Toot-toot.' If he does it easily, it means he can carry a tune, we will call him a 'car' but if he does not match the tone at all we call him an 'Engine' because he must 'Toot-toot' every day until he is able to match one tone. Our program then is made in every room by the 'Cars.' The reason the 'Engines' are unable to sing is because they have sung the wrong tones so long that their ears have been dulled to a correct sense of pitch so that they not only do not hear the tone you sing to them but are unable to reproduce it. The only cure for an 'Engine' or non-singer is to be separated from the 'Cars' and listen to the correct tones with daily drill to matching tones with the teacher."

"Our first technical work is in ear-training which we accomplish through the medium of song. All songs are taught by rote. The teacher sings the song entirely through twice, then she sings the first phrase twice, the children are listening closely all the while. The teacher gives them the correct tone on the pitch pipe and they sing the first phrase from memory, after having listened to the teacher. The second phrase is built the same way. So on until the song has been learned. We have accomplished two things when we are through. A beautiful rote song has been learned, correct as to pitch, expression and rhythm, and their ears have been trained to reproduce the song entirely by rote. Children's voices grow in comparison with their bodies, therefore a six-year-old first grade child would have a very small voice. The child voice is naturally sweet, soft and pitched very high."

"The technical work in all the county schools has been sadly neglected because there has been no organization to the work—every school had a supervisor who did her work in her own way, with no one to check up on her results. Now every one has definite work which they are trained to do, they have definite results which I know can be accomplished."

plished and which we are accomplishing.

"I am bringing to your club meeting a first and second grade, who not only sing for you some of the songs learned in their daily work, but will demonstrate their Toy Band, whose director is a little girl seven years old. This Band will be in uniform, every child in the room will play an instrument. This is our lowest form of musical development technically, and grades seven and eight from the same school will sing and give some of the higher technical developments of our program. This room demonstrates the changing voice problem which most of you men will appreciate."

"The change voices in this room were almost all 'engines' when school started. They hated music in this school to such an extent that they had petitioned the faculty against taking it. Now they have it every day and would have it twice a day if the faculty would permit. I will leave it to your judgment whether or not you think it has been worth while."

A modern "Gibson girl" is Mejel Coleman, who has been selected as one of America's most beautiful women. She was added to the list when six artists named her. In addition to having the most beautiful hands in the country she has won first prize in two mid-west beauty contests.

TWO ADMINISTRATION BILLS ARE INTRODUCED

One Provides For Concentration of all Fees and Taxes in the State General Fund

PERMANENT BUDGET BOARD

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 3—Two of the administration's finance bills were introduced in the legislature Monday, by Representative L. A. Pittenger, of Selma Republican floor leader.

One bill provides for the concentration of all fees and taxes in the general fund, from which specific appropriations will be made for the highway commission and other departments deriving their funds largely from special sources.

Under the bill the revenue from the auto license fees, the gasoline tax and the inheritance tax, now going directly to the highway commission, would be turned into the general fund.

The second bill calls for the creation of a permanent budget advisory board subject to the call of the governor at any time.

Functions of the permanent board would be similar to those of the present legislative budget advisory committee which aids in drawing up the appropriations program for the general assembly.

Come to our shop and see the bunch of finished cars that are ready and others that are about ready to go out.

See the different color combinations, and the thorough way that we refinish them. Tell us frankly if you ever saw any new cars that looked any better—if as well.

There is no secret in doing a good job—it only takes men that know how and are willing to work, and good material, and to be sure to use a plenty of both—and to do this it costs more than just half do the job.

We are only doing one kind of refinishing and that is the BEST. We are not satisfied to do just as good as anyone else, but BETTER THAN ANY IS OUR MOTTO. Make us prove it. It is much pleasanter to be satisfied than sorry.

"Love's Wilderness," Princess
A magazine writer, in a recent review of the film career of Corinne Griffith, referred to her as "beauty in distress." Her pictures, he added, almost always showed her in difficulty because of her pulchritude.

In "Love's Wilderness," her latest First National production, Corinne faces quite a different situation. She is still "beauty in distress"; however, it is not because of her wealth. It is her comeliness which leads her into difficulty.

The story, written by Evelyn Campbell, a well known writer, shows Corinne as the belle of a little Louisiana town and engaged to wed an explorer. She tires of waiting for him to return, though, and finally elopes with a comparative stranger.

In the wilds of Canada, where the couple seek to make their home, Corinne is afforded opportunity to display perhaps the most pretentious bit of tensely dramatic acting of her career. She is shown as an abandoned wife, fighting for her life in a blinding blizzard.

Corinne continues to be "beauty in distress." But pre-view critics of "Love's Wilderness" assert that here she is more beautiful and in greater distress than ever before. Holmes Herbert and Ian Keith are her supporting cast.

The picture will be at the Princess theatre Wednesday.

Marie Prevost Picture

Marie Prevost and Monte Blue, whose names have become imbedded in the mind of every film fan by reason of their work in "The Marriage Circle," will be seen again in another outstanding photoplay. This is no less a picture than Eleanor Glyn's "How to Educate a Wife."

Grandmother's Cough Remedy—Pine Tar and Honey—Still Best

A well-known specialist said recently that although many wonderful medical discoveries have been made in recent years, nobody has found a better and quicker healing agent for coughs, chest colds, spasmodic croup, hoarseness, throat tickling and other throat and bronchial troubles than good old pine tar and honey. Our grandmothers would never be without pine tar syrup in the house, and they raised large families. It still remains one of the few medicines that can be given to young and old alike, as it contains no harmful drugs.

The pine tar quickly soothes and heals soreness and irritation, and by loosening the phlegm removes the actual cause of the coughing. The honey is not only pleasant to the taste but also very soothing to the throat.

The kind that has been used with never-failing success in thousands of families for years is that known as Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. This is scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine tar, honey and other quick-acting, healing ingredients which the best doctors have found to aid in quick relief. If you want the best, be sure to get Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. It costs only 50c at any good drug store.

That Eleanor Glyn was "the greatest woman psychologist in Europe" was the opinion held of her by the late Jack London.

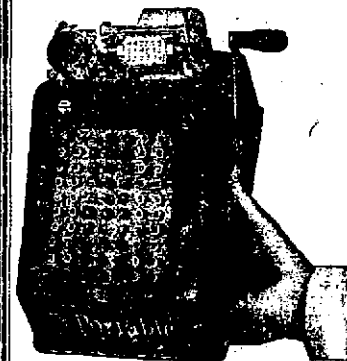

This British novelist is reputed to know the passions of men and women from a to z, and to have the secrets of the human heart at her trained finger tips.

Others in the cast of this picture are Claude Gillingwater, Vera Lewis, Betty Francis, Creighton Hale, Edward Earle and Nellie Bly Baker.

In this picture, Eleanor Glyn tackles a subject that is dear to the hearts of nearly every man and woman, married or unmarried, happy or unhappy. The subject of getting along in wedlock is of almost universal interest, as people are either married, about to get married, or just finished with the institution and divorced.

Today the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) Introduces to the Motorists of Rushville

SOLITE (REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.) A PERFECT GASOLINE

Solite is a light volatile gasoline that is more than merely high-test. While Solite is high-test it also is unique because it drives the piston the full stroke under power.

This is not true of the ordinary so-called "high-test" gasoline.

Solite is an achievement of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) refineries. It has every essential quality necessary in a motor fuel. Solite is made for the many motorists

- who prefer a more volatile gasoline.
- who demand instant, rhythmic response from their motors.
- who want more than so-called "high-test" gasoline.
- who are willing for these reasons to forego extreme economy of operation.

Look for the
Solite Sign

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) recommends Solite Gasoline to the motorist who insists on a little quicker action from his engine and is willing to pay a little more to get it.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) will continue to market and recommend its popular Red Crown Gasoline for maximum power at minimum cost. Also it will maintain the quality of that powerful economy fuel.

Prove the merits of Solite Gasoline in your car. Try it today. In Solite and Red Crown you have, without question, the two best gasolines that can be produced for the modern automobile engine.
